MARIONITES PLAN FOR ANNUAL EASTER PARADE

Local Stores Outfitting Persons in Preparation for Colorful Event

BY HALLIE HOUCK
MARION'S Easter parade will feature the right thing for men and women to wear, a survey of Marion stores shows. Clerks and buyers are well pleased with the adaptation of local trade to the new things that have followed Marion buyers from their spring trips to New York.

The only thing which is bothering Marion women is the hat question. Advertised as "so different from last year's hats, they live up to it. Brims that start on an even keel and then slant skywards. Off-the-face brims with bands of flowers, tri-corns, wide brims, everything but the snug little chapeaux of last year. The sweet young things adorn hats of this type but the girl who goes in for tailored things, plain and untrimmed, and the matron, are having a terrible battle within themselves to come to the flower-bedecked "bunnets" and it all comes back to the ears of the clerks.

for spring have gone over big with the young girls here.

Blue and black have maintained popularity in women's dress coats this year, although many have bought light colors in tailored sports coats. Capes are out.

Odd skins have gone into the making of the shoes and pumps which Marion women have been buying. Many have bought blond kid, a great many snakeskins and the other "different" shoe materials, and a great many retain their belief in black, in satin, patent or kid, as the best color for slippers in the Easter parade.

Marion merchants are pleased with their selections this year. Everything's up-to-the-minute, and the Easter throngs have repaid them in their efforts to bring such stocks here.

The sidewalks, churches, theaters, highways and byways will all be brightened by this week's buying Easter Sunday when the men and women don their new clothes for the annual fashion parade.

Salem Evangelical Aid Honors Two Members
Celebrating the eighty-fifth birthday anniversary of Mrs. Mary Frank, her daughter, Mrs. Ida Higgins entertained the Ladies' Aid society of Salem Evangelical church yesterday afternoon at her home on Pearl street.
Mrs. Frank is a member of the society. Mrs. A. A. Schultz read the scripture lesson and Rev. Paul H. Bourquin, pastor, offered prayer. Several hymns were sung. An Easter poem, "The Invitation," was read by Mrs. Herman Gehring. Eleven members and several guests were present for the occasion. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Higgins. The society will meet May 7.

SPANISH STAR IN WESTERN PICTURE FOR LOCAL DEBUT

Jose Bohr and Myrna Loy Have Leads in "Rogue of Rio Grande."

Jose Bohr, a sensation of the Spanish screen, is headed for as greater heights on the American screen, judging by his performance in the "Rogue of the Rio Grande," which opened at the Ohio last night to continue today and Saturday. Bohr plays the part of El Malo, the bandit, who is a modern Robin Hood, robbing the rich to help the poor.

El Malo stages a sudden daylight holdup of the bank in Sierra Blanca, and the sheriff, William Rankin, offers a reward of $1,000 for his capture. El Malo is insulted because the sheriff did not offer a larger reward and because the description on the poster does not fit him. He visits the town in search of the sheriff and falls in love with Carmita, the dancer, Myrna Loy. El Malo promises to come back for her and then they will search for a Spanish home of their own.

As the sheriff attempts to put him under arrest the lights are shot out in a melee. El Malo grabs Carmita and makes off toward the border with the sheriff's posse close on their heels. H. C. S.

The Stars Say— For Saturday, April 4

A DAY of conflicting planetary configurations points to much commotion, perplexity and complications. New projects should flourish, high ambitions receive much stimulus affiliations bring much pleasure and advantage, and yet there is sign of friction, dispute, upheaval and sudden events. With good judgment, wise management and rigorous self-control over the tongue and temper, all may be turned to excellent advantage and profit.

Those whose birthday it is may be prepared for a year of excellent opportunity and advantage, with much importance to the ambitious and with new undertakings under-promising away. But all may be complicated or frustrated by an indulgence in rash, tempestuous or impetuous behavior.
An important change seems imminent but make contracts carefully and shun avenues of litigation. Private matters may its best interests by impulsive and tempestuous tendencies unless disciplined in youth.

FINAL RITES SATURDAY FOR ROCKNE

BURIAL FOR FAMOUS COACH TO BE NEAR NOTRE DAME CAMPUS

Services for Air Crash Victim Will Be Simple; Body Lies in State.

BY PAUL MICKELSON
Associated Press Sports Writer.
SOUTH BEND, Ind., April 3.—Knut Rockne, that roving, restless spirit, will find his final resting place tomorrow, in the consecrated soil of Highland cemetery, two and one-half miles from the campus of old Notre Dame.

Surrounded by thousands of his intimate friends and personal representatives of King Haskon of Norway, the "lord of the Vikings" from which he came, all that is mortal of the "rock of Notre Dame" will be taken to the church of Sacred Heart at 3 p. m. for simple funeral services and then lowered forever into his grave.

Today and until the cortege takes him for his last earthly journey, his body will lie in state at his picturesque, but unostentatious home in Sunnyside, watched over by a firm but fearful guard of honor composed of the boys and men he trained to play, laugh and live so well. But the last hopes of the multitude of mourners, who passed his bier, were denied. The casket was sealed because of the condition of his body, which was mangled in that tragic air plane crash in Kansas.

The pomp and ceremony, which were so closely associated with his glorious achievements on the football field will be missing tomorrow afternoon when Knute Rockne's body is delivered back to earth. Most of his friends, thousands of them, will crowd into the old Gothic church on the campus or stand in reverence, distances from the services.

Solemn high requiem mass will be held for the departed leader at the same church next Thursday in the presence of students, who by that time will have returned from their Easter vacations.

Highland cemetery, where Rockne will rest at last, is a comparatively new one. Part of it, including the Rockne grave, has been consecrated for Catholic burial; the other part is for non-Catholics.

Because of the wish for simplicity and brevity, only 1400 of Rockne's closest friends will be admitted to the services at the church and grave. Today the difficult task of assorting the most intimate was undertaken so as to give them cards of admittance. The others, thousands of them from all sections of the nation, will be asked to remain a block or so from the church and grave.

Such simplicity and brevity were the wishes of Mrs. Rockne. At 2 p. m. Saturday, the body

Eustace Set To Battle Browning in Return Bout

THIS Browning boy is liable to have his hands full at the Steam Shovel gym next Tuesday night when he tackles Allen Eustace in the feature bout of a mat show.

Browning seems to think that he is going to have an easy time in forcing the shoulders of Eustace to the mat. In fact he is so confident of his ability that he challenged Eustace to a winner take all event.

Eustace did not have to take a week in which to snap up the bar, as soon as he was notified of Browning's terms, he wired back "Okay."

From that, it looks like Eustace is not worried a great deal about Browning's apparent confidence. From the standpoint of the fans all indications point to a wild night of wrestling.

Both men weigh around the 225 pound mark and are willing to give and take plenty. At a recent bout here Eustace was given the referee's decision when Browning was disqualified. As a result Browning has demanded a new referee for next week's bout.

The match will be the main attraction of a four-bout card scheduled for 8:30 p. m.

OFFICIALS NAMED FOR OHIO RELAY EVENTS

Major John L. Griffith To Serve as Referee at Annual Track Meet.

By The Associated Press
COLUMBUS, O., April 3.—Major John L. Griffith, commissioner of Big Ten athletics, will serve as referee at the eighth annual Ohio relays at Ohio State university stadium, May 1 and 2. Maj. Griffith has served at every Ohio meet so far.

Harry P. Swain of Columbus, who was one of the starters last year, will gain act in this capacity. The second starter remains to be selected. E. T. Cook of Dayton, Ohio, who was one of the starters last year, is to be chief judge and H. G. Olsen, Ohio State's basketball coach, will head the timers.

Other members of the Ohio State athletic staff, including Sam Williams, E. R. Godfrey, George Hauser, Floyd Stahl and others will serve in official capacities.

Ohio State Will Open Season with Wesleyan

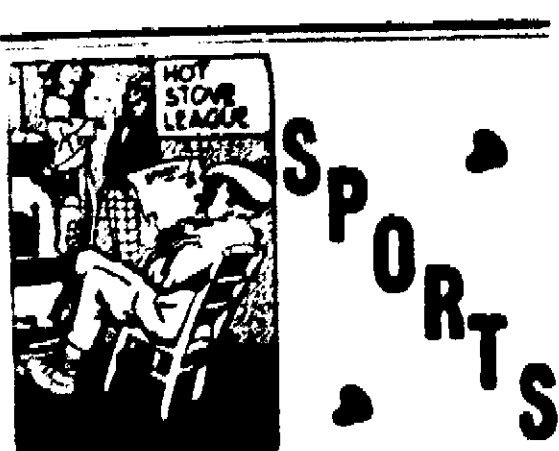

COLUMBUS, O., April 3.—A well balanced veteran Ohio State university baseball team opens its season at the Ohio stadium Saturday afternoon against Ohio Wesleyan.

The Buckeyes will present a lineup that calls for only two new men: Lewis Hinchman of Columbus, at third base and Gene Strother of Louisville, Ky., at shortstop. Bill Kermode of Cincinnati, will have the honor of hurling the first game with Lowell Wrigley of Lima, waiting in the relief role. Arthur Welshelmer of Columbus, will be behind the bat.

For Ohio Wesleyan either William Dickerson of Adena, or James Vezie of Fredericktown, Pa., will be in the box.

NEW PRO AT MANSFIELD

By International News Service.
PITTSBURGH, April 3.—Chuck Oneretta, scion of a well-known family of golf professionals, will assume a position with the Possum Run club at Mansfield next week. It was learned here today. For the last six years Oneretta has been connected with the Schenley municipal links here.

BY BOB KIRKPATRICK

It might be interesting to followers of basketball in Marion to list some of the accomplishments of the Y-Indus basketball team over the three year period since its organization. There is no other team in the city or in this section of the state that can rightfully claim a record that comes near approaching that of the Marion Y. M. C. A. team.

In three years of competition the club has met 78 court opponents and won a total of 55 games. In only one year since its organization (the first if you want to know) has the team lost a game. A number of games as it has won. In its first year of play seven defeats were charged to the club, against six victories.

In the 1929-1930 season the Marion five went on a winning spree that carried it to 23 victories in 26 starts. The club climaxed its efforts by taking the state class B Y-championship.

In the season just concluded, although the won and lost column may look slightly less impressive than that of last year, the team went through its banner year. A total of 39 games were played and 26 of them resulted in victories for the Y-Indus five.

The team collected a total of 1,321 points this year, an average of more than 33 a game. Five hundred sixty-four field goals were scored and 193 markers garnered from the charity stripe.

For the three years of play the team has a scoring record of 2,490 points, an average per game of more than 31 points a game.

After looking at the distance traveled by the club for its out-of-town games during the last two years one might think the club was a team that did all its playing on the road rather than one which has played nearly half its contests on the home floor. In 1929-1930, the club covered a distance of 1,398 miles and this season it traveled 2,362 miles. The mileage figures were compiled by Bud Cram, captain of the team.

The individual scoring record for the team this year goes to Vic Gillis, a forward. Gillis hit the net for 464 points, far more than any other player on the team. In all around value to the team, the efforts of Vic were probably no more than on a par with the rest of the first string men.

The complete scoring records for the year of the team follow:

	G.	F.	T.P.
Gillis	205	59	464
Cram	97	43	257
Roush	67	25	159
Lockwood	64	25	153
Osterholt	64	18	146
Keller	27	17	71
Petter	28	2	58
Church	7	2	16
Crawford	5	2	12

CLEVELAND ASSURED CHAMPIONSHIP FIGHT

Stribling-Schmeling Battle on July 3 Regarded as "in the Bag" Now.

By The Associated Press
CLEVELAND, O., April 3.—The heavyweight championship bout between Sam Schmeling and Young Stribling looked in the bag for Cleveland today.

Emil Wetten, legal representative of the Madison Square Garden corporation of Illinois, and Joe Jacobs, manager of the German titleholder, were in Chicago today with the announced intention of obtaining the corporation's signature to a Cleveland contract. William E. Carey, of the Madison Square Garden was in New York after declaring Cleveland was virtually assured of the match.

The three said formal announcement of Cleveland's selection would be made soon as minor differences over the rental of the municipal stadium and other terms could be straightened out.

The bout, 15 rounds, will be held the night of July 3. The stadium, being erected at a cost of $3,000,000, has a capacity of 100,000 which can be increased to 120,000.

Future Notre Dame Football Teams To Miss Lashing Remarks of Knute Rockne

EDITOR'S NOTE:— This is the first of three articles depicting the human side of Knute Rockne, Notre Dame's great coach.

BY LOREN DISNEY
Associated Press Sports Writer

KNUTE ROCKNE has coached this last football team.

The lash of his trenchant tongue will be missing when future eleven carry the colors of Notre Dame onto the gridiron; but the legend of the greatest rough and ready psychologist the game ever knew will continue to grow.

So many are the tales of the stocky Norwegian's rich speech and shrewd manner of exacting the utmost from his famous Ramblers that the "Rock's" exploits are told and retold wherever football is known.

Those Rockne Yarns
A Rockne story carries an implication of quality that only the most publicized trade-marks attain. Everyone who has felt the thrill of watching a kick-off to the tune of "Cheer, Cheer for Old Notre Dame" has his particular favorite. The yarns range from Rockne's

TURNEY MAY CONTINUE

By The Associated Press.
TIFFIN, O., April 3.—Herman Sayger, athletic coach at Heidelberg college, who has just returned from Florida where he went for his health, may not be able to return this fall in his coaching capacity, campus reports say. Continued adverse health was given as the cause. If he does not, Ted Turney, former Ohio Wesleyan football and basketball star who left coaching position at Akron North High to come to Heidelberg last year, may again take charge.

habit of charging, in a jovial scornful manner, a blundering linesman with "having a charley-horse between the ears" to his appeal to the team to "win one for George Gipp."

One of the latest uses of his handy wit was in answer to the numerous charges that football is being over-emphasized.

At the start of spring practice at South Bend this year Rockne assembled the several hundred boys who had turned out.

"I don't know whether we ought to have spring practice this year," he said. "It might take too much time from your drinking and necking."

Joked with Players
Rockne always maintained close touch with his players. He made pals of them, jested with them, and greatly helped the 80-odd who now are coaching over the country.

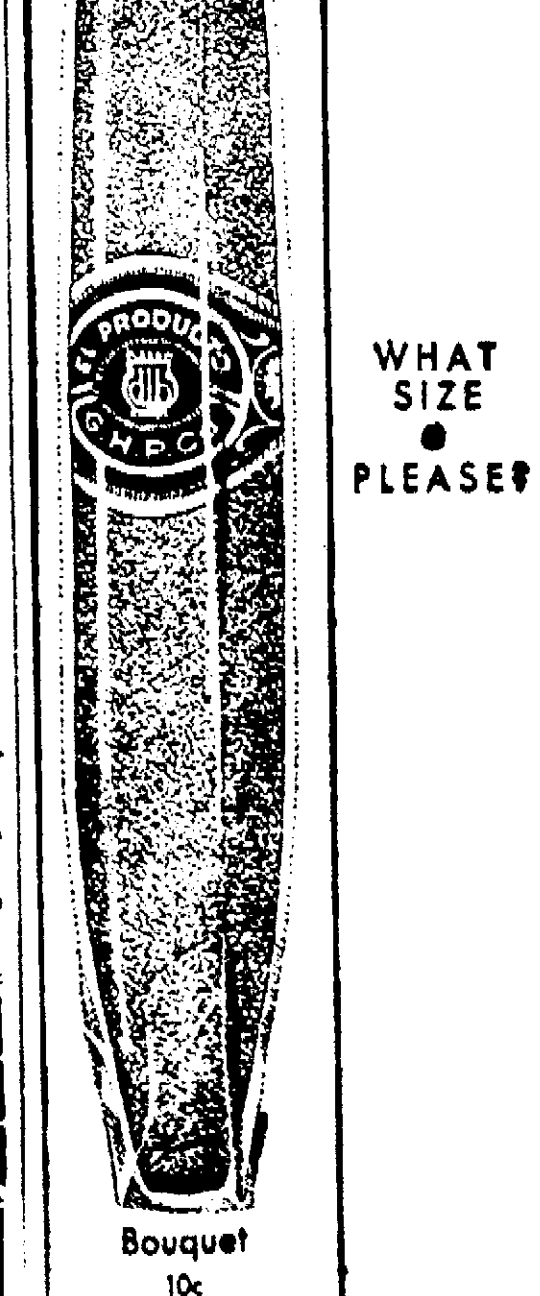

The occasions on which repartee entered into his conversations with his players are myriad. Invariably, however, it was the player who failed to come up with the last reply.

One of the few times that one of the boys ever bettered the coach in a verbal joust grew out of Rockne's habit of buttonholing any player, whether varsity or scrub, at any time and demanding a solution to a particularly difficult problem in football strategy.

A fourth string quarterback, who hadn't seen action throughout the season, was traveling with the team on one of its transcontinental jaunts. He was reading a book when Rockne passed through the train.

The coach hesitated, barked: "The score is 6 to 9 against you, last quarter, two minutes to play, the ball's in your territory, your possession, second down, ten to go—what would you do?"

were not to be announced until later.
King Haakon assured his representation at the funeral last night when he cabled the Norwegian consul at Chicago to attend the services tomorrow, accompanied by a group of six prominent Chicago Norwegians. He conveyed his deep regret to Mrs. Rockne and Notre Dame and advised he would knight the departed Notre Dame football coach within the next six months.
Mrs. Rockne, although fatigued by her long train ride from Florida, bore up exceedingly well on her arrival and today. She was surrounded by her mother, Mrs. Hilda H. Jones of Kenton, Ohio, and Rockne's 72-year-old mother, Mrs. Lewis Rockne of Chicago, and others. Her four children, William, 14; Knute, Jr., 11; Jean, 10, and Jackie, 5, still didn't seem to realize with the other thousands of Rockne's friends that their father had departed from life.

GRID TEAM TO MISS COMMENTS OF 'ROCK'

Future Notre Dame Elevens Will Feel Loss of Lashing Remarks.

"What are you saving me for?" "For the junior prom," Rockne replied.
Another of Rockne's practices was a word and pat on the back for each player as he came off the field. One youngster, being replaced, dashed into the showers without the pat. There he recalled he hadn't received the benediction, so he went back.
"What do you want?" asked Rockne.
"I want my pat on the back."
"Get in out of the cold or I'll pat you on the head," Rockne said.

Rockne had one ace in the hole which he used only in the greatest emergencies. That was the use of the potent name of George Gipp.

Gipp was one of Notre Dame's greatest backs. He died from an infected throat just after a season's pay and his last words to Rockne were:
"When the going's rough against the Army, tell the boys to go out and pull it out for the Gipper."
During a particularly hard Army game, with the Irish being pushed around the field, but the Army unable to score, Rockne used Gipp's words during halves.
Finally as the game neared end, the Voodisch crashed over for a touchdown. As the team left the field the winner like hurried at Rockne.
"Well, there's one for the Gipper," Rockne smiled.

TOMORROW—The psychology Knute Rockne used against Notre Dame's opponents is revealed in another of Mr. Disney's articles.

Unknown Man Gives Money to Drouth Needy

By The Associated Press
NATCHEZ, Miss., April 3.—Destitute farmers were in possession of real money today for the first time in many weeks because of the benevolence of a mysterious stranger who drove through the Mississippi delta giving away handfuls of greenbacks.

A sports roadster conveying the young man, who told Red Cross officials he was Enos B. Jones of Jersey City, son of a wealthy manufacturer, drew up in front of more than half a hundred homes in the drouth area. Each time the farmer was summoned to the car and his hands stuffed with money. Before he could say anything the car would speed away.
Jones, who identified his companions as his brother-in-law, E. G. De Vilaine of Paris, France, and Alfred C. Violet, of West Port, Conn., apparently had no fixed destination. The youthful philanthropist said he planned to spread money throughout five more Mississippi delta towns, and five other stricken central states before returning home.

HOUSE RETURNS TO ORDERLY PROCEDURE

Lower Hall of Assembly Ends Thursday in Row Over Republican Leadership.

By The Associated Press
COLUMBUS, O., April 3.—The Ohio house of representatives returned to orderly procedure today after breaking up in disorder and revolt last night with Representative William W. Weir, Republican of Warren challenging the leadership of the Republican majority.
Weir called upon Speaker Arthur Hamilton to read the message he presented last night in which he served notice upon the house of a proposal to alter the rule which requires a two-thirds vote to take up any legislation out of order on the calendar.
Since the beginning of the calendar committee several weeks ago the Republican majority has been working behind the two-thirds vote bloc in dictating what legislation shall be considered. Weir's amendment of the rules would give the right to a majority of the members to select the legislation on which they desire to act.
After the notice was read and ordered printed in the house journal, Weir moved to protest against the act of the house in approving the report of the enrollment committee on the de Armond-Clark senate bill which he contended was declared passed illegally in the house.
Indications today were that the revolt against the leadership would continue to smolder until about Tuesday, the end of the three-day period for the change of rules.

Connecticut Asks Funds To Improve State Parks

HARTFORD, Conn.—Having accumulated almost 60,000 acres of forest lands and just under 10,000 acres for park purposes, the Connecticut state park commission now is seeking $150,000 to improve the property for fuller public use. State park attendance went above the 2,000,000 mark in the summer of 1930, an increase of about 100 per cent in two years. The state has 40 parks, ranking from Minnie Island in a lake in eastern Connecticut with one acre of land, to Macedonia Brook, Kent, in northwestern Connecticut, with 1,742 acres of land. Hammonasset Beach, on Long Island shore, had a million visitors last summer.

Tries Unique Appeal To Gain Pen Release

HARTFORD, Conn.—From his place behind the walls of the state prison at Wethersfield, Harry A. Bradley, of Meriden, made a unique bid for freedom by way of the courts, and lost. He learned that the stenographer who made stenographic notes of his trial for stealing autos had died and no one was able to read the notes. Therefore there was no complete transcript record of the trial and for that reason argued he was being held illegally. Bradley, who was given terms totaling at least eleven years in prison, tried the same appeal soon after the sentence was imposed in 1923.

Lighting Device To Aid Fishermen at Night

HARDIN, Mo.—Now you can go fishing at night and not bother about watching the cork. Cyrus V. See has invented the "Self Lighting Device" which announces in a brilliant gleam of light that a fish has been hooked. See's device consists of a small flashlight battery attached to the butt end of a fishing pole with wires running to the other end where a flashlight bulb is connected. When a fish is caught on the hook the bulb flashes and remains lighted until the fish is removed. The device is patented.

Life wouldn't bore us if we were trying to find out the meaning of it as the scientists are.

Color Contrast Is Smart.

Pattern 2100

BY ANNE ADAMS

Contrasting binding lends distinction and chic to a graceful frock that is ideal to wear under the new spring coat. The jacket and the side skirt godets are feminine details of real importance in the latest mode. A colorful print in silk or cotton may be chosen for Pattern 2100. Under a navy coat, you might wear a print of several shades of blue on a turquoise ground, and bind the seams with navy. With brown, the gold and orange prints would be attractive and for a black coat there is a glorious range of greens, reds, yellow and off-pinks.

May be obtained only in sizes 14, 16, 18, 20, 22, 24, 26, 28 and 30. Size 16 requires 3 1/2 yards of 29 inch material.

MELLOW, luscious, Sun Ripened, YOUTHFUL Takes Only 17 Seconds to Tell This Story
First, remember, only choice, rich, plump berries are used in Golden Sun Coffee. These berries are slowly reddened and cured in the sunny tropic highlands. Moisture gradually vanishes. The berries are sun ripened. Sealing in each berry rich essential oils. Impregnated until ground, blended, roasted.
Then released in wonderful fragrance and flavor. Warm. Mellow. Delectable sun ripened berries. Golden Sun Coffee is truly a golden cup.
In many cities Golden Sun Coffee surpasses all others. Tremendous sales insure daily freshness. good Golden Sun Coffee can be. And you will endorse it to a friend. And when you do tell them about the deliciousness of Golden Sun Coffee speak about the coupon in every can and mention your independent grocer.

No more bathtub ring

BY MARY LEE WORK

How to remove it without rubbing—scrubbing—scouring

An easy way to conquer this and 2 other hard jobs

Would you like to know how to get bathtub rings out of the bathtub without having to go through the drudgery of scrubbing and scouring?

Today, I am going to tell you how to do this—and to make 2 other hard jobs easier—how to cut dishwashing time in half; how to avoid faded, gray-looking washings. To do this, you use a preparation called Climalene that you can get for 10¢ a package at any grocery store.

Thousands of women are using it and taking the time it saves them to shop, go to the movies, and otherwise enjoy themselves.

It makes it possible for you to do all your own work, and still have lovely hands. For it is made from the same elements as costly Bath Salts and thus really acts as a beautifying agent to the hands.

Banish Bathtub Ring

Add a tablespoonful of Climalene to your bath water. It makes the water soft as summer rain. Soap makes a quick, rich lather. After the bath—just rinse the tub. That is all. There just isn't any "high-water" mark. No scrubbing—no rubbing.

To Make Dishes Sparkle Like Jewels

Add one teaspoonful of Climalene to a dishpan of water, use only ¼ the amount of soap you now use. It instantly cuts the grease from dishes and cooking utensils, makes glassware sparkle and china gleam. The Climalene-softened water, plus certain bland cleansing agents, cuts your dishwashing time ¼ or more—saves ¼ or more the soap you now use.

To Avoid Faded, Gray Washings

Use 2 tablespoons of Climalene, and ¼ the usual amount of soap. Clothes emerge soft, spotless, utterly without fading. For soap fades, and soap eat are ended this way. In recent tests men's blue shirts were washed 75 times without noticeable fade; sheerest French hosiery 100 times or more—to prove the blandness of this way.

Why It Cleans

Climalene instantly takes all the harshness out of Lake water, medium hard water, and hard water. Makes it soft and gentle as rain water. So soft it does the work with ¼ the soap you use now. At the same time, due to certain bland cleansing agents, it instantly dissolves all grease, dirt and grime, and thus cuts your working time ¼ or more, in washing, cleaning and in the dishpan.

LIFE IS ETERNAL, PASTOR TELLS CLUB

Rev. H. L. Olewiler Is Speaker at Kiwanis Meeting at Marion Club.

Only the man who holds the Christian conception of life and eternal life has been led into the full meaning of freedom. Rev. Howard L. Olewiler, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, told Marion Kiwanians yesterday in the club's annual Easter meeting, held at the Marion club.

Mankind has every proof of a life hereafter, Rev. Olewiler said. One of the best proofs, he asserted, is man's aspiration for the better and higher things—aspirations that cannot be realized in life on earth.

Even the primitive man, Rev. Olewiler continued, had a conception of the after life, gained through his dreams of again associating with dead tribesmen and others who had died.

The resurrection of Jesus was pointed to by Rev. Olewiler the greatest proof of the greater life to come.

Emphasizing the difference between immortality and eternal life, Rev. Olewiler declared that every man is immortal, and that immortality is his inherent possession. However, he continued, eternal life is vastly different. It is the gift of Christ, whom he quoted as saying "He that believeth shall have eternal life."

Live with Jesus to an eternal life and to lofty purposes in this life, Rev. Olewiler urged the club in closing.

Singing of religious songs was led by Rev. C. E. Tuley, pastor of the Epworth M. E. church.

CHESAPEAKE & OHIO CHANGES SCHEDULE

Two Passenger Trains To Be Removed Under New Plan.

Two trains of the C. & O. railroad will be removed from service at 6 a. m. Sunday, it was announced at Union station today.

Trains formerly stopping in Marion at 8:24 a. m. northbound and 10:33 a. m. southbound will be removed. A northbound train formerly stopping here at 12:05 p. m. will stop here at 11:36 a. m. after Sunday. Another northbound train has been changed to leave here at 4:36 p. m. instead of 4:30 p. m.

A southbound train formerly leaving Marion at 4:18 p. m. will be changed to leave at 4:32 p. m. Another southbound train will leave at 8:15 p. m. instead of 8:25 p. m. as at present.

Trains leaving Marion at 11:56 a. m. northbound and 4:32 p. m. southbound will stop at intermediate points on the C. & O. line partially compensating for the local service given at present by the two trains to be removed Sunday.

Removal of two trains from the C. & O. makes it impossible for Marion air mail to take the air out of Columbus. Local postoffice attaches say. The train leaving at 10:33 a. m. southbound, carried a greater portion of Marion's airmail to Columbus where it was sent out in planes. Both trains to be taken off Sunday are mail carriers.

DAUGHTER BORN

Twilight Sleep Brings Vivian Duncan Safely Through Ordeal.

By The Associated Press
PARIS, April 3—Vivian Duncan, American actress, who says she was told by three American specialists the childbirth would be fatal to her, has come to Paris with a baby daughter, born March 20 at Wurzburg, Bavaria.

She has named the child Evelyn Rosetta Duncan Asther, and her husband and its father, Nils Asther, who played opposite Greta Garbo, is expected here shortly from America to have his first look at it.

Miss Duncan told the Paris edition of the Chicago Tribune that she had confided her trepidation at the approach of travail to the Countess Roussy de Sales, the former Mrs. Cecil Stewart, and at her advice had gone to Dr. Geuss clinic at Wurzburg.

The first twilight sleep administration did not work so well but the second caused no trouble. She went to sleep at 4 p. m. March 20, and awoke at 6 the next morning, and was well enough when she reached Paris to go out and find an apartment for herself and the youngster, the first day.

March Lives up to Old Adage of Lion and Lamb

Living up to an old proverb, March came in like a lion and left like a lamb. The first week of the month was bitter cold with snow covering the ground, while Tuesday the last day of the month found the sun shining and the skies bright.

March 11 was the coldest day of the year, according to records of E. H. Raffensperger, local weather observer. The highest reading for that day was 29 degrees and the lowest 20. The warmest day, March 23, the mercury reached 38 and its low was 33.

Marion and vicinity failed to get its normal amount of rainfall in March according to Observer Raffensperger's figures. Only 242 inches fell while the average fall for the month in this district is 364. Six inches of snow fell in March.

The average temperature for the month of March for Marion and vicinity during the last 39 years has been 39.75 but last month it averaged 31.61. Clear days were few and 12 partly cloudy days were the nearest to bright days. The rest of the days during the month were cloudy and the skies were overcast with heavy rain and snow clouds.

INSTANT RELIEF
FROM ITCHING

Followed use of Resinol
For years I had a breaking out on the back of my hand. I tried various ointments and ointments, and had several X-Ray treatments, but nothing seemed to heal the disorder. One night when my hand was itching unusually badly, my wife bought me a jar of Resinol Ointment, which I used and obtained instant relief. I do not hesitate to recommend Resinol to anyone." (Signed)
Owen E. Bennett, Santa Ana, Cal.

The quickness with which Resinol acts in relieving eczema, chafing, rashes, piles, acne, etc. is amazing. Why don't you try it? Use Resinol Soap also to keep your complexion always clear and smooth. At

Forty-one murders in New York City last month. After all, Chicago isn't so much.

Cleveland reports a twenty-five per cent.
gain in employment over the period a year ago. Things are certainly taking on a more cheerful hue.

Florida started 270 carloads of strawberries northward this week, four times the number shipped from that state the corresponding week a year ago. Looks as though the depression is receding.

Following a falling-off of 52,104 the preceding week, the number of Britain's unemployed dropped 59,513 last week. Evidently not all of the British jobless are merely dolo drawers.

Mrs. Henry Ford has divulged that Mr. Ford has planned all-the-year-around work on his farms during the summer lay-off season for all of his employees who want it. It will be interesting to note what percentage of the Ford employees take advantage of the plan.
It's a fair guess that it will not be more than 99.44.

If New York City can hold out a couple of days more, it may be able to breathe again freely. Mayor Jimmy Walker has left Palm Springs, California, and will get back home Sunday morning.

If a bill introduced in the Roumanian parliament is made a law, all the unmarried persons in that country between the ages of thirty and sixty-five will have to pay an additional twenty per cent. on their income taxes. Still, come to think of it, we accomplish the same end over here by charging married and unmarried alike and then granting the married larger deductions.

The Chicago Tribune refers to a 7,500-ton airplane carrier in readiness for launching over in Japan as a "big" fighting ship. What hope is there for perfection on the part of smaller and less prominent papers when the self-admitted "World's Greatest Newspaper" will blunder like that?

The Port of New York has insured the Holland tunnel for $300,000 and the Fort Lee bridge for $250,000 against damage or destruction from any cause whatever including "acts of God," the policy being shared by companies all over the world. That policy should hold up, barring, of course, world destruction.

The Georgia court of appeals has decided that a young woman in Atlanta can not be charged with transporting liquor when the same superior court jury, hearing the two charges against her at the same time, decided that she was not guilty of possessing liquor but was guilty of transporting it. Maybe the members of the jury figured that, the liquor being absent, she transported it on the absent-treatment plan.

The Home Not a Place of Safety.

Having analyzed the claims it paid from 1922 to 1930, inclusive, a big eastern life insurance company which carries a great volume of accident business has arrived at the conclusion that it is more dangerous to play golf than to ride on a railroad train and twice as hazardous to play baseball as to ride on a street car. This conclusion on the part of the company is not so surprising when it is considered that both golf and baseball carry hazard, while statistics show that a passenger riding in railroad or street car is preferentially located so far as danger of accident is concerned and that such few accidents as do occur to steam or electric car passengers are largely limited to those suffered while getting on or off cars.

Nor is there any great element for surprise in the company's showing that, judged by its records for nine years, sports and recreations cause nearly five times as many accidents as the combined total of those suffered on railroad trains, on street, elevated and subway cars, and on steamship lines.

But it is surprising to learn that this nine-year record shows that eighteen per cent. of all accidents occur in homes. The great majority of such misfortunes are due to falls—falls in bathtubs, down stairs, off ladders, over chairs, from chairs, through trapdoors, up or down offset steps and not a few in getting in or out of bed.

In fact, instead of being a place of safety, the American home is found to be a place of risk, far more hazardous than an office and fully as hazardous as an up-to-date factory or other industrial plant. In fact, so many are the hazards in the modern home that the seeming tendency of up-to-date America to remain outside them might be explained by fear of the dangers lurking therein were it not that the automobile is so generally used in getting and staying away from them.

"Hunches" Approved by Scientists.

Two hundred out of 232 scientists who answered a questionnaire on the subject addressed to them by Professor R. A. Baker, of the College of the City of New York, and Dr.
Washington Platt, of Syracuse, New York, gave "hunches" credit for the solution of many difficult problems considered by them. This was the report made at the meeting of the American Chemical society in Indianapolis last week.

The two scientists define the scientific "hunch" as a "unifying or clarifying idea which springs into consciousness suddenly as a solution to a problem in which we are deeply interested."

"In typical cases," the report of the two scientists read, "it follows a long period of study, but comes into consciousness at a time when we are not consciously working on the problem. A 'hunch' springs from a wide knowledge of facts but is essentially a leap of the imagination in that it goes beyond a mere necessary conclusion which any reasonable man must draw from the data at hand. It is a process of creative thought."

It was the experience of the great majority of the scientists answering the questionnaire that "hunches" came to them in that borderland of consciousness immediately preceding sleep or when the mind is fresh on awakening, or when the conscious mind is dwelling on some subject wholly unrelated to that concerning which the "hunch" comes. There was general agreement that the "hunch" is almost invariably preceded by a period of investigation, a study of the facts obtained as a result thereof and a period of complete mental rest.

And to justify the natural conclusion which one may draw from the report—that mental rest, mental rest which assures freedom from the perplexing subject on which the mind has been dwelling—is favorable to the development of "hunches," it was practically the unanimous opinion of the scientists that conditions particularly unfriendly to the coming of "hunches" were "mental fatigue, petty irri-tations, noises, worry over domestic or financial matters, depression, anger, intense interest in some other problem, too constant work on the problem to be solved, working under pressure, anxiety over the research and too long periods of confined work."

It must be gratifying to those who for years upon years have been believers in "hunches" and have entered into ventures on the strength of them thus to have scientific approval for the following of them in the face of what many are inclined to consider the height of folly and evidence of a lack of reason.

A bill is being considered by an Illinois senate sub-committee that provides that all sales on the installment plan must be recorded in the office of the county recorder in which the sales are made. That should work to boost employment in the offices of lawyers, justices and notaries, as well as recorders' offices, or do things to sales on installments. It's an open question which. The only clinch is that the buyer would "pay the freight."

Poor England.

Americans who find their lot brighter if they contrast it with the lot of men of their position in "poor England" have something to mull over in the figures for that country's national accounts, which were closed March 31.
Chancellor of the Exchequer Snowden reports that a deficit of approximately $116,379,000 has been incurred by governmental expenditures in the fiscal year; despite a promised surplus of one-tenth that amount which has disappeared entirely. It is a huge adverse balance, as English deficits go, but even so there are many who are glad it isn't worse.

One seeks vainly to find aspects in the information sufficiently gloomy to make United States finances appear in good shape by contrast, when, even considering the discrepancy in population, this nation's deficit next July 1 promises to be much larger. The official estimate of the deficit is $500,000,000, though unofficial estimates have placed it as high as $750,000,000. It probably will come to rest somewhere between the two figures.

Poor England! She will simply have to worry along for a while without the benefit of lachrymose American pity provoked by contemplation of the sad state of Albion finances.
Her chief mourner has some personal grief to which to attend.

Dr. William J. Humphreys of the United States weather bureau calculates that the air surrounding the earth weighs approximately 58,328,000,000,000 tons. No wonder so many of us feel that there is an awful weight bearing down upon our shoulders!

To sell the idea of Atlantic sea travel to a larger American group, the Cunard company is planning a series of week-end cruises on transatlantic liners, the first of which will be to Nassau on the Mauretania, starting from New York April 24 and returning the following Tuesday. Ah! At last we have ocean travel offered us in line with our "two weeks off on pay."

It would be just like some wag purposely to misconstrue the philanthropic proposal of Mr.
Wrigley to buy 100,000,000 pounds of cotton and suggest that the great southern staple is to be used to give a more lasting quality to that gentleman's far-famed chewing gum.

It must be embarrassing to the decent citizensry of Chicago to have the disclosure made to the world, as it was this week, that city officials and employers are engaged in an attempt to frustrate the deportation of Tony Volpe, an alien gangster, who is said to be close to Capone.

Dr. Eugene Lirpa, of Hamburg, Germany, professes to have discovered the "germ of health," which is reminiscent of the late Robert G. Ingersoll's statement that if he had his way, he would make health "catching" instead of disease "catching."

The department of labor plans to bar the head of the Amtorg Trading corporation from a longer stay in this country on the ground that he came on a visitor's permit, which has once been renewed and has expired. There can be little censure of the labor department if it carries out the provisions of the law and treats all foreigners, not otherwise transgressing against our laws, alike.

Editorial Opinion.

MARTIAN EPISODE.

The path of Mars across the night sky has been particularly propitious for the study of the planet, also for experiments in radio communication with its possible inhabitants. If radio waves are "echoed" back to us from the moon in the fraction of a second, as seems to be pretty well established, they must impinge upon the surface of Mars in a matter of three minutes or so after leaving the earth. If the Martians by any chance are farther advanced in radio science than we are,
it should not be long before communication is established between the two orbs.

How unfortunate it is, then, since our conception of the universe rests so largely upon speculation and progressive experiment, that the investigations of men of science should often be balked by the trivial prejudices of lay persons. There is the case of the British astronomer who not long ago reported that he had actually received distinct telegraphic signals from Mars. He had spent long nights in his labors and now, having as he believed tuned in on the ruddy planet, what was his delight to find that his correspondent there was a lady and that she went by the name of Omaruru. It was all most interesting. The name of the lady seemed to suggest that Mars was very much like one of our South Sea islands, resounding with the plaintive music of ukeleles, bright with the dances of whole bodies of Omaruru.

The learned man was all atwitter over his success. Like Edison he forgot to eat and sleep, absorbed in his fascinating discovery, his ears all a-tingle with the faint music of that far-off voice. He was busy at work on a code of ideographs which should form the basis of an interpretation of the Martian tongue, when a force not exactly astral suddenly "gummed up" the works. In a word, the astronomer's wife put her foot down firmly and declared:
"We shall have no more foolishness in this house!"

It was all in vain that he learned husband explained that his interest in Omaruru was purely scientific. His words fell on deaf ears.
His telephone blushing only confirmed her suspicion of his turpitude. Omaruru might, as he assured her, be 54,000,000 miles away; nevertheless, she was a busy, a designing female, to whom that distance was nothing when it came to beguiling a weak, susceptible man from the path of rectitude. He must make his choice between the Martian woman of the sky and the mortal woman who ruled his household. There seemed to be no alternative. Sadly the astronomer turned the button that silenced all the interstellar whispers of Space yearning and in that tragic instant set back the cause of communication with Mars for years.—Boston

Change in Baby's Diet.

BY ROYAL S. COPELAND, M. D.

It is too bad that the weaning of a child is often made more difficult than is necessary.
For the sake of the mother and child, it should be accomplished as gradually and easily as possible.

Under normal conditions, the weaning process should be begun at about the eighth or ninth month. It should be ended by the twelfth month.

It is best to avoid weaning in hot weather.
Should the baby be nine months old in July or August, it is a good plan to give fruit juice, cereal gruel and a little modified cow's milk, in addition to the mother's milk. This plan will piece out the failing natural supply. If the weather continues hot, it is well to go on with the breast feeding until September or October.

Though sudden weaning is not advised in all cases, it is sometimes necessary. Should the mother have a chronic disease of some sort, or develop an acute disease of a serious nature, weaning must be resorted to immediately.

In cases of sudden weaning, the substituted food should be very weak in the beginning.
As the infant becomes accustomed to cow's milk, the strength of the food may be increased.
This increase should be gradual, because sudden and radical changes in the baby's diet are undesirable. Your doctor will decide this question.

Cow's milk, modified in accordance with the formula prescribed by the doctor is first given the baby only occasionally. The new feedings should replace not more than two or three daily nursings in the beginning.

Some physicians recommend giving the milk from a small cup. Of course, drinking from a cup does away with the tiresome work of sterilizing nipples and bottles. However, your own physician can be trusted to give you good advice in this matter.

If the milk agrees with the baby after one week's trial, the doctor will increase the strength of the formula. Such changes should be gradual until the maximum milk content is reached.

Preparing the feedings requires exact care.
There must be nothing aliphod or careless in this matter.

ANSWERS TO HEALTH QUERIES
J. N. F. Q.—Is it harmful to eat one or two lemons daily?
A.—No.

A DAILY READER. Q.—What can be done to cure "trench-mouth"?
A.—Trench-mouth, or Vincent's Angina, is an infection and must have proper medical attention and treatment in every instance. See your dentist and follow his advice and judgment. It is highly infectious and care should be taken to avoid spreading or carrying it to others.

READER. Q.—I am twenty years of age, and have a curvature of the back. What treatment would you advise for this condition?
Would an operation be helpful? Would this prevent motherhood?
A.—Each case is different. Follow your doctor's advice regarding the treatment your particular case requires. Not necessarily, depending on the seriousness of the curvature and the other conditions underlying the case.

MRS. A. C. W. Q.—I have been troubled with gall stones and have been advised to eliminate eggs from my diet. I am run down and nervous. What would you advise?
A.—I would advise you to follow your doctor's advice and judgment regarding any further attention or treatment you may require.
It is never wise to attempt any treatment unless it has been specifically prescribed for your particular case.

P. E. P. Q.—What causes the drying and cracking of the hands?
A.—This may be due to eczema. Send self-addressed, stamped envelope for full particulars and repeat your question.

Q.—No, but it would be wise to see your dentist.

S. F. Q.—Is there a way to reduce the bust and arms?
A.—Reducing in general should bring about the desired result. For full particulars send a self-addressed, stamped envelope and repeat your question.—Copyright, 1931, by Newspaper Feature Service, Inc.

Dr. Copeland will answer for readers of this one, write you personally, if a self-addressed,

Better is a dry morsel, and quietness

Science and the Church.

BY ARCHIBALD HENDERSON.

Science has won the greatest of triumphs in the modern world. This is not a triumph registered by some epochal discovery or useful invention. Those triumphs are now so frequently achieved and so widely disseminated as often to be taken less as marvels than as matters of course. The greatest of triumphs is to have liberty, untrammelled freedom for the exercise of thought. Here and there, from time to time, an engagement takes place along the frontier; and once more a minor fight is on.
But the opponents of science are so few and so feeble that the results of such conflicts are feregone conclusions. Science is always the winner.

The great scientist must be a courageous soul, following truth whithersoever it may lead. Not infrequently the scientist encounters new phenomena which seem in striking contradiction with results long accepted as facts.
But he does not shrink back in horror from these strange, new phenomena. He welcomes them as evidence that the former so-called "knowledge" about these matters was unsatisfactory, incomplete or even actually false. After verifying his results and satisfying himself of the accuracy of his reasoning and the correctness of his processes, the scientist boldly announces his discovery to the world. It will stand, or fall, this discovery, if it is proven to be true and not in violation of the other fundamental laws of nature.

For a long time, the modern spirit of inquiry, practised by Archimedes centuries in advance of his age, remained dormant. Other scientists did not know how to use it, or failed to use it consistently. But this spirit found a champion in the person of Roger Bacon. Unfortunately, Bacon found himself in conflict with the spirit of mediæval scholasticism. Roger Bacon was held by this school of thought as a practitioner in the black arts. Human existence was regarded by the church as primarily a preparation for the supernatural life to come. It was considered dangerous, even heretical, to search out nature's secrets. Had God wanted these things to be known to man, He would have revealed them to man.

Thus we see a conflict between religion and science, rather than trust the conclusions arrived at by our own mind, regardless of ecclesiastical hierarchy or religious guardianship.
We may well celebrate today the achievements of Columbus, the navigator, and Copernicus, the discoverer of new scientific laws for the movements of the heavenly bodies, as great stimulating forces to scientific individualism.
The sun rather than the earth at last came to be recognized at the true center of our system.—Copyright, 1931, International Feature Service, Inc.

When Corwin Was Governor.

BY J. H. GALBRAITH.
It has been said that Tom Corwin, who was elected governor of Ohio in 1840, found the duties of the office little to his liking, that he spent very little time in Columbus, and that he sought to be relieved of the office. The fact is that up to Governor Corwin's time and for a number of years thereafter, the governors of the state spent very little time at the state capital. They had been, many of them, farmers and they, like the professional men, found that their services were needed to continue their regular occupations.

Corwin was a lawyer, and had an extensive practice at his home in Lebanon. The office of governor paid in his time but $1,500 a year.
Some other source of revenue was necessary even in that day of comparatively low prices.
But in that day of comparatively low prices, certainly, to be a candidate for reelection, and was defeated in 1842 by Wilson Shannon, whom he had defeated two years before. And he sought also to run in 1846 for the nomination of the abolitionists for governor, but was defeated in that year by Lester King. Corwin always anti-slavery, was among the first leaders in the outright abolition movement when it started in the state.

But Addison P. Russell, who was secretary of state of Ohio in 1858-1862 and who knew Corwin very well, when asked serving in the governor's office, he left a vivid picture of him which presents him at that time as anything but morose, morbid and dissatisfied with the duties of the office. The Governor Corwin that Russell knew, thoroughly enjoyed himself. It was true that all the time he could spare from the executive duties he spent at his home at Lebanon, but he seemed when here to be running over with fun and good humor, and had a never-ending fund of stories. He never lacked attentive listeners when he wished to talk. Busy men, he said, learned to avoid the governor, as they found him a dangerous temptation to spend time in his presence. The young men gathered around him in numbers. They had no jealousies to prevent them from admiring him.

Open Bids on Upper Sandusky Sewer

COURT RULING DELAYS WORK

Council Awaits Further Word from Authorities; 20 Sub-mit Contracts.

Special to The Star.
UPPER SANDUSKY, April 3.—Bids on the proposed $25,000 sewer system were opened at noon yesterday by Mayor S. N. Clark. A recent decision of the supreme court will necessitate the delaying of awarding the contract until it is decided whether the regular meeting next Monday night at which time the lowest and best bid will likely be determined. The contract will then have to be held until such time as funds for construction can be raised.

According to the decision of the supreme court the entire town can not be taxed for the benefit of a particular sewer district, and bonds, to be paid for by a general tax levy, as voted, are a valid obligation against a municipality and are in violation of the state constitution. The proposed sewer calls for a storm water sewer on North Seventh street and the Tachan Hollow and a sanitary sewer on Sycamore and Pleasant View streets.

CAN'T PROVE CAPONE RANKS AS VAGRANT

Charges Cancelled When Police Say Knowledge of Al Is Lacking.

By The Associated Press.
CHICAGO, April 3.—Charges of vagrancy were wiped from "Scarface Al" Capone's escutcheon today. The prosecutor said they could find no policeman intimate enough with the gang chief's activities to testify to his vagrancy. Capone posed genially for the photographers.

It was during his recent trial for contempt of federal court, for which he was handed a six months jail term, that Capone had his first appearance in the municipal court as an alleged vagrant.

The prosecutors asked leave to file an amended bill of complaint, and when this was brought in, Policeman Roy Van Herik, signer of the warrant, acknowledged he could not, of his own knowledge, swear to Capone's lack of legitimate employment and failure to provide for his family.

"Have you found a policeman who can testify?" Judge Frank M. Padden inquired today. Harry Ditchburne and Frank Mast, assistant state's attorneys, said they had failed, and that evidence within the eighteenth month statutory limitation was lacking. They moved to dismiss the charges.

Capone, smiling, free of any state charge, walked out with his escort of detectives.
